Venice High School marks 70th year of accreditation

By Valerie Evenden

VENICE This year marks the 70th year that Venice High School has been an accredited member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, said Principal John Rutherford.

The high school became an association member in August 1917 and has remained fully accredited since that time. "We are especially proud of this achievement," the principal said.

A North Central team was assigned to evaluate the curriculum programs offered at Venice High School last spring. The process is to measure the standard of what an individual school is doing, Rush said.

Reviewing the status of the 1986-87 school year for school board members, Rush said enrollment at the high school level remains steady when compared to the previous year's student population.

As of Sept. 30, there were 162 students enrolled in 9th through 12th grade classes including 17 pupils in remediable physically handicapped (EMH) and trainable mentally handicapped (TMH) classes, Rush informed the board at the Oct. 8 meeting.

Enrollment in 1986-87 was 1,033 high school students, including 24 in the same special education classes.

Some change in the number of credits required for graduation may be recommended by a committee of teachers which evaluated the credits requirement, Rush said.

Venice students need 17 credits to graduate, with most receiving 18, 19 or 20 credits while in high school, the principal said.

The Madison School District now requires 19 credits for graduation and the Granite City district requires a student to have 20 credits to graduate, he said.

Rush commended several area business firms which sponsored the printing of a school sports calendar. A calendar with red and white calendars was provided, enabling each child in school to get a free calendar, he said.

The first game of the 1987-88 basketball season will be played Dec. 1 against Lincoln High School of East St. Louis and not Webster High as listed on the calendar, he said.

Rush urged parents to get more involved in their children's education and suggested parents encourage their visit the classrooms during Annual Education Week in November.

"There is an exceptional number of students in the lower grades this year," said Grade School Principal Sue Kirkpatrick in her report to the school

United Way giving made easier

GRANITE CITY — Giving to the Tri-Cities Area United Way has become easier for some people.

A new bank draft system will allow persons to give a monthly donation to the United Way from either their checking or savings account, said Janet Quarton, executive director of the local United Way.

A portion of the money raised in the giving comes from payroll deductions, Quarton said. That means persons who aren't on a payroll, like retired or professional people, she said.

Persons participating in the program sign a card authorizing their financial institution to deduct from their account a particular amount of money on the tenth of each month. A mini-

EDWARDSVILLE — Mark Urioste, 26, of Madison, was found guilty Wednesday of murder and home invasion by Madison County Circuit Judge Charles Chapman in the 1986 stabbing death of Rebecca Rogers.

In his decision Chapman said, "I find the defendant guilty of all crimes charged in the indictment, but mentally ill."

Chapman acknowledged defendant's mental illness, but Urioste "has moderate to severe brain damage, and is suffering from mental illness."

Chapman's decision followed closing arguments in the five-day case today.

Rogers, 21, also of Madison, was killed Aug. 8, 1986.

The judge also said he found it difficult to understand how Urioste could be released from the Anna Mental Health Center less than two months before the crime.

Rogers died to death as a result of two stab wounds to the front and side of her chest according to testimony provided during the case. Police who investigated the case testified that she was stabbed in her bedroom and that the sexual advances by Urioste.

Urioste's defense was based on the fact he incurred brain damage when he fell from a tree in 1984. Dr. Steven Talmage, Edwardsville psychologist, testified during the trial that Urioste's brain damage left him unable to control his actions or fully appreciate the effects of his actions.

But Assistant State's Attorney Richard Rybak claimed that Urioste was rational enough to arm himself with a knife, selected the home of the victim, whom he knew, and then break in through a bathroom window and go to the victim's bedroom.

Rybak also noted during his closing arguments that Urioste had been rational when confronted with his actions and told that he understood his rights.

Defense attorney Joseph Brown of Edwardsville argued that Urioste's brain damage made him unable to understand his actions, adding that Urioste should be responsible for his actions.

Brown told the court that before his head injury Urioste had been "an average young man not perfect, but no problems," Brown said.

Chapman said sentencing of Urioste would follow a pre-sentencing investigation in about 30 days.

Audit shows $1.2 million fund balance

BELLEVILLE — A positive fund balance for Belleville Area College was shown in an audit report accepted Wednesday by BAC's Board of Trustees.

The minutes probably constitute an audit advisory report. We just want to make it clear now," Goldenberg said.

President Paul Commissions have offered advisory reports, in addition to minutes of meetings, on why they approved or disapproved rezoning petitions but the current commission has not done so.

The

advocacy reports will now be issued for two recent recommendations by the ZBA that must be voted on by the council.

Mansfield draws support

WASHINGTON — Two congressmen showed their support for 21st District Congressional candidate Mike Mansfield last week by sponsoring a fund-raising event. Mansfield is seeking to replace his boss, Mel Price, who has announced he will retire after this term.

U.S. Reps. Frank Annunzio, D-Illinois, and Sonny Montgomery, D-Mississippi, co-sponsored the event in downtown Washington, D.C. Annunzio is chairman of the House Committee on Administration and the third-ranking member on the House Banking Committee. Montgomery is chairman of the House Committee on Veterans and the ranking member of the subcommittee on military construction.

"The support of Reps. Annunzio and Montgomery is a tremendous lift to my campaign," Mansfield said. "I am being a financial report short with the FEC. This event easily pushed me over the $5,000 filing requirement and it should serve as a good base to gather additional donations."

Mansfield, 33, said Mr. and Mrs. Price attended the event and have been very supportive of his initiative. Mansfield is Price's chief of staff in Washington.

Lighting referendum on November ballot

NAMOEOKI — A question on the Nov. 3 ballot will ask residents of the Miracle Manor-Bellemeade Place Street Lighting District to increase their real estate tax rate 12.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation to continue street lighting service.

The district includes residents of the Miracle Manor and Bellemeade Place subdivisions of Nameoki Township, and only those residents will vote on the proposal.

Township Trustee Norm Hall said the lighting district hasn't raised its tax rate since it was formed 30 years ago. Costs have gone up considerably in that time, Hall said, and the district is borrowing money to keep the lights on.

If the referendum passes, the rate limit would increase to 25 cents. A taxpayer living in a $30,000 home assessed at $10,000 would pay $25 annually. Hall said.

If the referendum fails, the street lights will be turned off, Hall said.

This year it will be co-hosted by the Southern and South Central Divisions of School Nurses, focusing on "Healthy Children — A Bright Future."

Reports are to be given during the Nov. 1 meeting in East Alton. Plans are to make the installation of new officers.

On Sept. 29, school nurses and other interested persons attended a workshop on Regional School Health Day.

INTERRUPTED TRIP: A grocery bag, doll and pumpkin are left in the back of this car after its occupants were taken to area hospitals following a collision Wednesday with a Granite City Steel train in the 1500 block of Madison Avenue.

Four hurt when train strikes car

GRANITE CITY — A Granite City steel train struck a passenger car that apparently had its headlights flashing crossing lights and left four injured Wednesday night in the 1500 block of Madison Avenue.

The occupants of the car were returning from a shopping trip when the train hit the passenger side of the automobile about 8:05 p.m.

The driver, Teresa B. Saathoff, 31, of Albers, Ill., was treated and released from St.

Elizabeth Medical Center. In saturation, she was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital; James Douglas C. Laundry, 31, of 622 Broadway, Venice, who sustained liver damage and right factured rib.

Engineer Robert R. Garin, 14 Del Rio Ave., said the train was crossing the roadway going west, then the car pulled onto the path. The train was traveling about 5 mph with its headlights working, he said. The engine was pulling 18 cars.

Saathoff was given a ticket for disobeying railroad warning signal.

Infirm man safe after house fire Tuesday

EAGLE PARK — A fire in a fireplace apparently ignited a wooden stud in a wall at 9:55 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Charles Maples, 113 Booket St. The blaze was extinguished by Eagle Park volunteer firemen.

Maples, 73, has been ill and confined in bed for about a year. He was removed from bed by the emergency team firehouse by Campbell Ambulance personnel and taken to St. Eliza- beth Medical Center, where he was admitted for observation.

The firefighters limited the fire to the kitchen area with some smoke damage occurring in the dining room. Chief Eddie Salmond said Tuesday night, "The fireplace was in a room adjacent to the kitchen, and the fire traveled up the wall toward the attic."

The Eagle Park Fire Protection Department responded to a fire by Verla Arnold, a neighbor of the Maples, and the Madison Police Department, which also had received a call. Maples' wife, Anna, also in her 70s, was taken by daughter, Rosetta Adams, to the home of Mrs. Arnold while firemen extinguished the blaze. Adams and her husband and children were at the scene and were at the time of the fire, Salmond said.

Estimated loss from the blaze was not available. The house is still livable, the fire chief said.

Volunteer firemen responding were Eddie Salmond Jr., Craig Gray, Charles Davis, Ron Salmond, Clarence Rhodes and Roger Howard.

Granite City Steel Employee's Federal Credit Union.

No, the credit union isn't going into the car-selling business, but we are in business to make loans . . . low-cost automobile loans.

That's why we're sponsoring a new-car sales extravaganza! Not only have we slashed our new car loan rate to go with special terms, but we've also worked out an agreement with a select group of local auto dealers to offer extra low prices on their 1987 and 1988 vehicles.

• 100% Credit Union Financing — the credit union has a special rate of 8.9% APR for 48 months, including 100% financing of the sale price to qualified borrowers. Payroll Deduction and Credit Life Insurance are also available at no additional cost.

• Exclusive Dealer Discounts — Participating auto dealers will offer substantial savings on selected new cars, vans and trucks. To qualify for the discounts, you must finance your auto purchase through Granite City Steel Employee's Federal Credit Union.

• Pre-Approvals — Before you shop for a new car, be sure to stop by the credit union office to complete a loan application. The loan officer will give you the list of participating auto dealers and the price discounts they have agreed to offer exclusively for this sale.

To be eligible to apply for a loan, you must be a member of Granite City Steel Employee's Federal Credit Union. Anyone living and/or working in Granite City Township can join the credit union.

This special sale is good until October 30, 1987, only. Hurry to the credit union office for a loan application today!

Ladies Coterie hears about China, Japan

Gladys Page, program chairman for the Ladies Coterie, introduced Helen Friedman as speaker at the organization's fall meeting.

Friedman discussed her trip to China.

She and her traveling companions flew to Osaka, Japan, and spent three days before visiting Nagasaki, Japan. At Kobe, Japan, the group boarded the ship, The Viking Star, which stopped at Pusan, Korea, before returning down the coast of China on an inland waterway trip to Beijin.

While in China, they visited the Hall of People, which accommodates 70,000 people. Then, said the group, toured several schools and visited a Chinese family.

She said the house was small, with painted concrete floors. According to custom, a person is offered a second cup of tea; this means the family wants a visitor to stay longer; otherwise, a visit should be short, Friedman said.

Friedman said the Chinese are proud of their children and young people like to practice their English because English is important to them. The trip ended in Hong Kong.

Members met at the First Presbyterian Church for a luncheon hosted by Virginia John. President Kathleen Oft called the meeting to order with Ida Cariss leading the club's colors and Ruth Moore the pledge of allegiance.

During the business meeting, Elizabeth Briggs and Shirley Schwendener were accepted into the club as new members.

One side of the fall meeting of the 22nd District Federated Women's Clubs was to be held in Fallon.

Given birthday honors were Vicki Edward and Bernadine Cooley. Others attending were Ethel Eeler, Anka Filcoff, Arline Fox, Bass Henley, Harriet Horn, Millie Meek and Helen Stoever.

Winners for entrants were: O'Neill, a blue ribbon; Etheridge, a red ribbon; Gondola, seven blue ribbons and a special Award of Merit.

Change clock, change battery, actor McLean Stevenson says

By Darrell Shoultz
Staff affiliate

An actor who touched the hearts of millions on television show "M*A*S*H" came to St. Louis this week to talk about a subject that has touched his heart.

McLean Stevenson, who played Lt. Col. Henry Blake on the popular television series and whose death on the series still haunts fans, returned to local radio and television stations last week trying to drum up support for a program designed to cut down the number of deaths from fires.

Sponsored by Eveready Batteries, the program is called "Change Your Clock; Change Your Batteries." The purpose is to get people to replace batteries in their smoke detectors at the same time they turn back their clocks for daylight-saving time, which officially begins at 2 a.m. today.

Stevenson added, "And while it's great for Eveready to be involved in this program, the kind of batteries you use isn't important. Just make sure those smoke detectors have good batteries in them."

Stevenson says he feels a special kinship toward young fire victims. As a child, he was involved in an accident and suffered third-degree burns himself. Now, he regularly works with the burn unit at Sherman Oaks Hospital. "On average, there every day I'm in town," he said — and has become a spokesman for the Eveready avoidance program.

"I've been associated with burn victims for about five years now," Stevenson said. "I do other things, I work with Tim Conway and his program, I speak to kids, Harvey Korman and the autistic children and Mothers Against Drunk Driving. But this is my special love. I care more about accident prevention. I relate to children better than to most adults, and working with these unfortunate kids is really special to me."

He also knows something like 4,000 kids die each year in fires.

They're innocent victims. But a program like this can, I think, save maybe 2,000 or 2,500 lives a year. And it's so simple. Just get a smoke detector and make sure the batteries are fresh. That's all."

McLean Stevenson

In between beating the drum for his "Change Your Batteries" program, Stevenson also talked about his new television project, which will once again have him playing a doctor.

"Doc Knuckles," according to Stevenson, it's based on a real life doctor, Richard Knuckles, who practices in Lincoln, Mo.

Stevenson can across Rich Knuckles, while playing the old Charles Kuralt "On the Road" show. "He was doing a story on Doc Knuckles, and as soon as he was over, I called him, and he said that Doc Knuckles was without a doubt the most unique human being he'd ever met. In fact, in Kuralt's new book, 'On the Road,' Doc Knuckles is the first chapter."

"So I got on a plane, flew to Kansas City, rented a car and drove to Lincoln, which is a little over two hours away. So I found Doc Knuckles, who practices out of the back of an antique store. We sat and talked for a couple of hours."

Much was written for Knuckles that now it's going to take quite a while to rework it, Stevenson said. "I really don't know when it's going to get started again."

In addition to working on his movie and series, Stevenson has been involved in the shooting of "Caddyshack II." But the project, on which he became Roger Dangerfield, star of the first "Caddyshack," has left the production.

Stevenson said, "I really don't know when it's going to get started again."

He was just a friend to everybody," said Lucille Schmalz, who has known Simon since he moved to Troy, Ill., in 1948. "He was a good man, and he had a problem with his health, and he had at any time during his 60 years done any volunteer work for the less fortunate," Simon said at the joint rally.

"When Sen. (Patrick) Leahy (D-Vt.) asked Judge Bork whether he had done any pro bono work, and he had indicated that he hadn't, I thought he was asking him whether he had at any time during his 60 years done any volunteer work for the less fortunate," Simon said at the joint rally.

In 1981, Simon also donated his time and energy to help resurrect the now-defunct East St. Louis Big Brothers organization, Ruth Simon said.

Other residents of Troy, where Simon wrote weekly newspaper columns for 18 years, remember him fondly as someone they could count on to help out with a cause.

Pat Huck, a founding member of the local library, said Simon and his wife, Jeanne, were active on the library board in the early 1950s, and he said she has returned twice since he has been in Washington to speak at fund-raisers.

"It's hard to get politicians to speak to a group like us," but Pat Huck said, adding that the first time Simon spoke, the library didn't have a permanent home.

"He said, 'When you get a copy of the Constitution, you can't be afraid to use it.'

Sen. Thompson raised some eyebrows in Capitol Hill, especially among Bork supporters who said the nominee has long been a public servant whose record would match that of most senators.

"One would hope that (Simon) would be more concerned about Bork's positions on the court than whether he is a decent person who would be Ray Thomas' a role to Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., the ranking minority member on the Judicial

Night playoff games at Wrigley legalized

Nighttime World Series, league championship and all-star baseball games could be played at Wrigley Field, Chicago, under legislation Gov. James R. Thompson has signed into law.

Senate Bill 958 amends the Environmental Protection Act to remove past-season play and all-star games from Pollution Control Board regulations banning the use of lights at Wrigley Field.

"My approval of SB 958 removes the problem of meeting network television demands for night playoff and all-star games at Wrigley Field in the future," said the governor. "With that obstacle removed, I hope we get a chance to use the law as soon as possible."

Gaffner sees endorsement affecting race

The decision by the Madison County Democratic Central Committee to endorse St. Clair County Board Chairman Jerry Costello for the 21st Congressional seat of Mel Price has stirred interest in more than just Democratic circles.

Bob Gaffner, a Greenville Republican who has mounted several challenges to Price in the past, said the endorsement could be a factor in the next election.

He will formally announce Oct. 31 where he will mount his fourth campaign for the congressional seat.

Gaffner, 53, assistant to the chancellor of the St. Louis Community Colleges, came within 94 votes of defeating Price, now a 22-term incumbent, in 1986.

Gaffner dismissed the notion that capturing the Democratic nomination in the March 1988 primary is a must-stay to an electoral victory.

"I don't subscribe to that theory," he said. "This district is increasingly becoming more independent. Fewer people are voting in the primary. They are waiting to vote in the general election. I hope to be seen as a neutral candidate."

"I don't think the people of Madison County want to have another congressman for St. Clair for the next 40 years," Gaffner said.

Gaffner said the recent election of Republicans Frank Watson and Ron Stephens of Caseyville to the House are evidence the district is prepared to elect a Republican to succeed Price.

If he decides to run, Gaffner intends to wage an issues-oriented campaign focusing on what he considers the three most important issues affecting residents of the district.

"The biggest problem we face is the economy and jobs," he said. "What's important is the creation of jobs and opportunities for skilled labor. The last thing people have been displaced in this area's steel and agricultural industries."

He said the next most important problem is education. He feels improved educational opportunities will help those who have been displaced from traditional industries train themselves to learn new skills.

RICKY BALL of the Trojans is pulled down by Assumption's Leonard Manley.

Pioneers hold off Trojans

By Gary King
Correspondent

MADISON — For the Trojans, the only thing uglier than Friday night's inclement weather was the scoreboard.

Assumption 20, Madison 12. Another loss. Another loss that could've been a win.

The scenario was painstakingly familiar to the Trojans. In last week's 16-6 loss to Freeburg, Madison was victimized by what could've been. What could've been if an apparent touchdown wasn't dropped. What could've been if a punt hadn't been blocked.

And by the time the final gun sounded, the Trojans found themselves victimized by the same pattern again.

What could've been if halfback Ian Smith would've hung on to an apparent first-quarter touch down? What could've been if receiver halfback James Norris hadn't busted loose for a 49-yard touchdown run in the second quarter? What could've been without a copycat loss?

And in putting up a valiant fight against Assumption, the seventh-ranked Class 2A team in the state, the Trojans had no reason to hang their heads.

"Assumption is a good team," said Trojan coach Don Smith. "We have to do a good job of it. We know we played a good game, but someone has to lose."

And the powerful Pioneer trim of Jacques Norris, Shadrack Myles and Leonard Manley might have made sure it wasn't Assumption that came up on the short end of the stick.

Norris gained 164 on 29 carries, including a 49-yard scoring burst in the second quarter. Norris later put Assumption ahead 20-6 with a one-yard scoring plunge.

Slaughter, a 6-3, 235-pound fullback, powered his way to 57 yards on 10 carries.

But the difference between a Pioneer win and a Pioneer loss might have been the emergence of an unlikely hero, Eisaw, who scored for 102 yards on 13 carries.

"We just took what they gave us," Assumption coach Ken Kier said. "We just tried to be patient with the ball. When they keyed on Norris, we gave the ball to Eisaw. When they keyed on them, we gave the ball to Slaughter. "We have enough tools that you just can't keep one out," he said, referring behind on Norris' second-quarter touchdown. Ian Smith brought Madison back to within striking distance with a 49-yard touch down.

For the Trojans, momentum would be short lived as Assumption would take the ensuing drive 57 yards in five plays to take a 13-6 lead.

The Pioneers went ahead 20-6 before Madison could retaliate with a 52-yard, 10-play drive to trim Assumption's lead to 20-12. But the Trojans, once again, scored on a one-yard run for the final score of the game.

"I thought we played pretty well defensively, but we were just too tired at the end," Smith said. "We had a couple of opportunities to score, but we couldn't get it in. It was a tough loss for us, but we win or lose as a team."

Heading into the final week of the season, the Trojans can ill afford to dwell on could've been.

Madison, now 5-3, must win their final game of the season

Weckman wins one at state

Allan Lobdell said he wanted to see Keri Weckman win "a couple of matches" at the state tournament this weekend. One will have to do.

Weckman, a sophomore at Granite City High School, won her opening-round match at Mt. Prospect on Saturday after defeating Future of Peoria Berger 6-3, 6-4. But Weckman dropped a second-round match to Lynnbrook-Northville's McKeon 6-4, 6-0 to settle in the 16-and-under 6-6 bracket. She suffered a 4-6, 6-2, 6-1 defeat to Deanne Knight of Oak Forest to eliminate her from further competition.

It was Weckman's second trip to state in as many years.

She did not win any matches at state as a freshman. Keri ended the year with a 16-5 record in dual matches.

Warriors, SLU play 0-0 tie

The Warrior soccer team ended the regular season by battling to a 0-0 tie at St. Louis University. High on the road. The two teams battled through 80 minutes of regulation play and two 10-minute overtimes without a goal.

The tie left Granite City with a 13-3-2 mark entering regional play. The Warriors will host either Alton or Wood River on Monday in a 7 p.m. game.

Granite City (11) was 11-1 against Illinois schools this year and 2-2-2 against Missouri schools.

Harrlers in regional

Cross country regionals were held in Edwardsburg on Saturday. Washington coach Dave McClain said he didn't foresee many members of the Granite City boys or girls teams advancing to next Saturday's sectional at Springfield.

Lynn Vehling finished ninth in the Southwestern Conference meet held last week with a time of 15:11. Julie Gabriel was 11th and Linda Kline 13th. Vehling finished 17th at 16:01. Granite City's Brendi Langsdorf of Belleville East won the race with a time of 13:40 and the Lancers took the team title with 10 points. Belleville West was next with 49 points and East St. Louis was third with 78 points.

The other three schools didn't have enough runners to have a team.

In the boys race, Mike Patterson of Granite City was 23rd with a time of 17:24; Tom Jones was 30th in 18:07; Larry Tankley was 38th in 18:17; and Michael was 39th in 21:07. John Blassingame of Belleville West won the meet with a time of 15:43 and the Maroons won the team title with 48 points.

Volleyball squad provides a boost for GC girls sports

The so-called "big-time" schools in midstate high schools are football, basketball and baseball. In Granite City, you can add soccer and wrestling.

What do all of those sports have in common? Easy. They are all boys sports.

While the boys sports go about their business, the girls sports sometimes seem to play along as best as they can. In places like Belleville, outstanding girls teams seem to be the rule rather than the exception.

Granite City has not had that in recent years. Take note, however. Winter's heroics in track and cross country a couple of years ago and it has been slim pickings on the female side of the athletic department. But things could be changing.

Redbirds spoil Homecoming

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — On a gloomy night, two teams trying to salvage something out of a dismal season butted heads. Unfortunately for the Warriors, the hard running of Kevin Slaughter and the backs ran hard while their line did the job with the smiling faces.

The Redbirds moved into a second-place tie in the Southwestern Conference with a 13-7 win that cost Granite City's Homecoming. Wilbur Kaiser rushed for 79 yards and a pair of second-half touchdowns to give Alton the win.

"We had a bad four minutes in the third quarter that hurt us," said Warrior coach Ron Yates. "But that's the game. We didn't execute and had some sloppy tackling and their backs ran hard while their line did the job with the smiling faces."

The Redbirds spent most of the first half going in the wrong direction as penalties and bad plays left them with long yardage plays. The Warriors finally took advantage by 16 yards in 11 plays in the second quarter. Joe Wallace hit Brian Dix for 16 yards on a third and 10 and the hard running of Kevin Slaughter and yards on 16 carries and 3 at the 14.

The Warriors went for it and Wallace hit Jeff Koller wide open on the right side for a touchdown with 7:32 left in the half.

"We have everything to gain and nothing to lose at this point in the season," Yates said.

The Warriors would have extended their lead when Leon Beard let Dix punt him at the Alton 26, but three seconds left in the half. The winner of the Alton-Belleville West game will finish second to East St. Louis.

"We should have been ahead 10-0," Yates said. "And if we stop them once in the second half it could have been a 10-6 win. But if, if, if..."

The Redbirds came out charging in the second half as Vernon Davis returned the kickoff 25 yards. Four plays later Kaiser sprinted through the middle and cut outside for a 35-yard touch down just 1:58 into the extra point.

"We can be successful anytime we are aggressive," James said. "And we played at 100 percent effort in the second half. Coach Yates is in a rebuilding year, but he is going to have a fine team."

The Warriors had one more chance to extend their lead of 11 for 70 yards, but Dix for 16 more to the Alton 43 with five minutes left. But Ernest Smith sacked Wallace for an 11-yard loss and Wallace gained only 14 yards on a scramble on fourth and 18.

• Girls

Memorial Gymnasium on Wednesday night was the Warrior team's home for its 20th game of the season. Don Deterding's girls are far by the most successful girls squad at GCHS in many years.

James lost at Belleville Althoff ended the regular season with a 20-6 mark, but there is more excitement ahead.

In Thursday's match, the Warriors did not win the first game 10-15, won the second 15-11 and dropped the third 15-12 after trailing 12-0.

"Our goal was 20 wins," said Deterding. "This is a great bunch of girls. In more than 30 years of coaching, this is one of the best I've ever had as far as attitude and desire are concerned."

The Lady Warriors should defeat Triad in their first regional match on Tuesday and face a strong Edwardsville team at the Lincoln Gym for the regional crown on Thursday. If they can win that, they would be home for the sectional next week. There they will get a good crack at potential Belleville West.

"We would like to get to play at home," Deterding said. "We would have to play West in the first match here and I would like to see them play elsewhere and then them. But whatever happens, that has been a great experience this year."

Whatever happens, Wendy Kastman, Tammy LeVault, Lisa Mills, Beth Earney and Co. might have started something big. The success of one girls team could be the impetus for success in other sports, notably basketball and softball.

"Of course, talent dictates if you win or lose," Deterding said. "And there is lots of talent here."

Kim Pawlik is a dead-eye shooter and could be the type of player a basketball team can be built around. In softball, LeVault has a year of pitching under her belt and could be the key to a successful season in the spring. With GCHS' girls soccer team this soccer team look for them to make a run at the first-ever girls state soccer tournament.

"The awareness that the faculty and the people at the school have had for the team has been great," Deterding said. "And our fans have been just super. It's a small group made up mostly of parents, but they have been fantastic all year long."

Two punts by Kyle Steiner got great rolls to back the Warriors up, and Bryan Mike's interception of the Granite City 20 with a minute left sealed the win for Alton.

"We're making other teams look good," Yates said. "Their quickness hurt us. We needed a couple of more inches of rain than we had. The guys were up for this one. We were long on effort and guts but lacked the finesse."

NOTES: The Warriors have scored only 44 points in seven games this year...They outgained Alton 169-115 and the host had 99 rushing yards and 70 passing yards. Both teams had nine first downs.

next Saturday at Quincy Notre Dame in order to have any hope of qualifying for the playoffs. With a 6-3 record, the Trojans would be in the hunt for an at-large berth.

Smith said his squad's future now lies in its ability to let by-gones be by-gones.

"We've just got to put this game behind us and get ready for the next one," Smith said. "We can't look back. It's do-or-die time for us now."

Lashbrook to resign as SIUE AD

By Gary King
Correspondent

EDDWARDSVILLE — Dr. G. Lynn Lashbrook, director of athletics at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, announced Friday that he will be stepping down from his post with the university effective Sept. 1, 1988.

The announcement of Lashbrook's resignation was made by James Buck, the vice president for institutional and public affairs at SIUE.

Buck said he was accepting Lashbrook's resignation "with regrets," but with the understanding of Lashbrook's desire to pursue other career opportunities.

"Dr. Lashbrook has provided leadership to our athletic department and the overall mission of the university has been strengthened by his commitment to the student-athlete concept," Buck said.

Lashbrook said he tendered his resignation to pursue other interests.

I feel real positive about it," Lashbrook said. "I think in the time I've been here we've made progress on all fronts. I'm excited about my future and I just think it's time for me to pursue other opportunities elsewhere."

Lashbrook, 39, said he announced his plans to resign early so the university would have ample time to find another athletic director.

As past president of the National Association for Academics in Athletics, Lashbrook said he was considering looking for an athletic director job with the Division I level. SIUE is a Division II school.

Lashbrook accepted the athletic director position at SIUE in March of 1985. Prior to coming to SIUE, Lashbrook served as assistant athletic director at the University of Missouri-Columbia.

'Radio Days' tunes in comic past

By Nick and Eileen Pacino
Journal correspondents

Woody Allen looks back through a romantic, but comic, haze to slower, simpler "Radio Days" (1986), when the radio was a radio, and people around which a family shared grief, gags, love and laughs.

Allen is the narrator for a series of vignettes — set in late 1940s New York City — about a close-knit, lower-middle-class Jewish family. There's Mother (Julie Kavner), who gripes about her son's lack of ambition; never dream of leaving the inventor Father (Michael Tucker).

Uncle Abe (the late Zero Mostel) and his son, Josh, is a corpulent, unambitious man whose wife, Renee (Lipkin), dreams to go to a fancy night club, if she can remove the smell of the fish Abe brings home. Aunt Bea (Doris Roberts) is a sweet, vulnerable woman waiting for the Prince Charming who never materializes.

Finally, there is Allyn's alter ego, 12-year-old Joe (Seth Green), whose heroes are The Masked Avenger, Green Hornet and Biff Baxter. His irreverence borders on the ridiculous, is one of the film's funniest moments. Filmed through Seth's perception are the family's moments of fun, fantasy, love, laughter and tears in front of the large Philco console.

Parallel to these mundane lives are the glamorous ones behind the masks like Sally, the girl next door (Mia Farrow), who goes from squeaky mouse to golden-throated gossip queen.

And woven through all is the terrific memory-teasing musical score featuring Cole Porter, Ink Spots and Harry James.

Other film pros like Diane Keaton, Tom Hanks and Jeff Daniels are utilized in cameos roles.

HBO Video, rated PG for language and brief nudity, 96 mins., color, VHS/Beta, closed captioned.

At its initial release, "An American Tail" (1986) was the highest grossing movie and the all-time most enriching and educational experience for youngsters, telling the story of America's rich immigrant heritage.

The Russian-Jewish Mousekowitz family is fleeing persecution (carried out by cossack cats) by traveling to America, where Papa (Fievel) loses his way, but there are no feelings.

Separated from his family when he is washed overboard, young Fievel searches through the teeming streets of New York, meeting such colorful characters like Warren T. Rat and his henchmen Digit and Moe.

But there's good amidst the evil: Fievel, an ally to the city's dogs, begins to find his place.

During an exceptionally trying time, Toklas visits a priest, seeking forgiveness for understandable dislike of the instructor, Stein. The good priest, however, finds Fievel attempting to describe her predicament with: "You'll have to wait for canonization." The film also stars Andrew McCarthy from "Manhattan."

Key Video, rated PG for language, 88 mins., color, VHS/Beta, stereo, closed captioned.

Personoff (Papa Mousekowitz) and young Phillip Glasser (Fievel). It also features the lovely Oscar-nominated song "Somewhere Out There."

MCA Home Video, rated G, 81 mins., color, VHS/Beta, stereo surround, closed captioned.

"Academy Award-winner Linda Hunt stars in the film of Liviu Rebreanu's 'The Death of Lazarus' (1983), portrays Alice B. Toklas' companion to American literary luminary and experimental artist Stein, in 'Waiting for the Moon.'

It's a visually appealing film, with sun-kissed golden scenes of French countryside; but historically confusing as it mixes a 19th century setting out of the two women's lives during the 1930s.

You get snatches of Stein's syntactically sinuous writing ("a rose, is a rose, is a rose") as she and Toklas edit her manuscripts; but the loving ties that bind the two fractious women is the film's focus.

Stein (Linda Bassett) labels herself the good saint and Toklas the saint, which translated means she's as stubborn as a mule and Toklas has a patience that borders on megalomania.

The good priest, however, finds Fievel attempting to describe her predicament with: "You'll have to wait for canonization." The film also stars Andrew McCarthy from "Manhattan."

"Made in Heaven," with Tim Hutton, Kelly McGillis and Marisa Tomei, is a fantasy in which a young man travels to heaven and back to earth in search of his true love.

"Sweethearts" stars Karen Black and Brian Benben, Martin Sheen and Grace Jones in an erotic epic about a professional daredevil ("Heart of Fire") feels out Edie Dylan, Ruth Etting, and Fiona on a quest of an aging rock star's obsession with a beautiful musician; "Return of The Living Dead: Part II" is a sequel to the comedy horror film, and "Action Jackson" features Carl Weathers, Craig T. Nelson, Vanity, Sharon Stone and Michael Winslow in a thriller about a cop battling a corrupt auto magnate.

"Big Shots" stars Paul Winfield in a story of friendship between a successful lawyer and his sheltered white friend.

20th Century-Fox has great expectations for "The Princess Bride," a whimsical tale based on Robin Hood's tale of William Goldman's novel about a bedridden young boy whose grandfather reads him a book about a beautiful princess and a fairy-tale kingdom. He learns that everything grandpa reads to him will soon come vividly to life.

Sally is back doing the same impulsive things that cost plenty and helped line the pockets of his opportunistic attorney (Peter Boyle).

Finally, there's the story. To sum it up, it is improbable to make a vast understatement. To say you might believe or enjoy it is to say the rest of "Surrender" is easily imaginable.

The problems are several. First, the humor in the script sometimes works, but also sometimes does not. Then there's "Surrender," gets off a good laugh it almost arrives as a surprise. In other cases, when the punch lines fall, it's another roadblock in a film full of plot one-liners.

"Surrender" is one of those movies you attend and, for the most part, enjoy. But as you leave the theater, you most likely will find yourself wondering whether or not you really had such a good time after all. You may recall a handful of the jokes. The rest of "Surrender" is easily imaginable.
